Excerpt from Goethe: A New Pantomime My Birth-day Dream. The golden Julian mom was gleaming o'er me, The diamond stars were waning one by one, When, lo! methought a Vision rose before me - Two maidens beauteous as the rising sun. On the pale brows of one were towers shining, A glory burst like Heres from her eyes; But round the other's forehead I saw twining Laurels and roses bright as brightest skies. Then quoth the first, My name, beloved, is Power; I come to thee and woo thee for mine own; Wealth, grandeur, titles - these shall be thy dower, But thou must seek, court, worship me alone. The marble palace glittering in its glory, The pomp, the power, the attributes of Kings, These I can give thee, with a name in story; - Canst thou for these put forth thine eagle wings? Then quoth the second, Pomp, and power, and palace, And royal wealth and grandeur are not mine: I cannot give thee garden, bower, or chalice Resplendent with its gems,...
