Reviews

A whole new eBook with a brand new point of view. It is definitely simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the publication. I am just pleased to explain how this is the greatest ebook i have read during my very own daily life and could be he best ebook for possibly.

Excerpt: . . . the sitter of a special aspect of life in obedience to mood; as his personality affects the painter--though the instinctive rejection of everything irrelevant that sitter, if we know him, may have come to it. One thing accepted and another let go into our own world in an altogether different from a choice made from within --made, light. Then we have truth to nature, of a that is, by Life itself. For the cast of an profounder order altogether than a mere reflec artists mind is thrown out of the mould of tion of surface. Then we see life as it is mirrored nature like the form of his body. Selections made by temperament are natural, they are Natures own; as they make themselves felt in art they move us with the power of something elemental. They speak for Nature in a way in which the more conscious choice of the intellect, with its assertion of its independence, does not. To the extent to which in a work of art we are compelled to bow to this force of fundamental personal expression are we in the presence of that which will defy the revisions of the judgment of fashion, and of that which will endure while the surface on which it is shown remains intact. The art of Van Dyck has been praised by a philosopher because it placed the painters own interpretation of life on Life, and was not merely negative in the...
